Teachers' mentoring and assistance to students to avail of self-study courses

On the suggestions of the University Grants Commission, the Higher Education Department has provided guidelines for a new learning module, as self-study courses. Our institution incorporated self-study courses in syllabus as a important guide line step by UGC. The self-study courses are periodically revised and mentored by the faculty members.

Mentor Teachers use the programme standards to assist and oversee students growth and development as they progress from observation to co-planning and co-teaching to lead teaching duties.

The following are the program's requirements:

- Collaboration with students
- Creating and managing a learning community in the classroom
- Working and studying at an education and in a profession

Self - study Courses given by the institution:

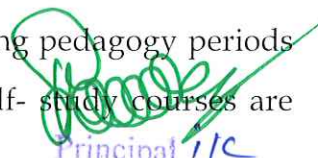

- Mathematical Reasoning and Aptitude Syllabus
- Information and Communication Technology

Apart from the off-line Self-study courses offered by the institution, students are encourage to complete online self-study course in reputed agencies like SWAYAM, MOOC, CIET, NPTEL, Manohar Memorial Education Society, Open education for a modern world, Microsoft, CIET-NCERT, Coursera, Nalser University, Amity University, Google digital garage.

Two MOOC courses are mandatory for all the B.Ed., students, one for first year and second course in pedagogy subject for the second year students.

Students are monitored exclusively in computer lab and during pedagogy periods by the faculty members. The progress and grievances in the self- study courses are rectified in the mentor-mentee meeting also.
