Take up one idea, Make that one idea your life – think of it, dream of it, live on that idea. Let the brain, muscles, nerves, every part of your body, be full of that idea, and just leave every other idea alone. This is the way to success, and this is the way great spiritual giants are produced.

Learn obedience first. Among these Western nations, with such a high spirit of independence, the spirit of obedience is equally strong. We are all of us self-important — which never produces any work. Great enterprise, boundless courage, tremendous energy, and, above all, perfect obedience — these are the only traits that lead to individual and national regeneration. These traits are altogether lacking in us.

ACTIVE LEARNING METHODOLOGY

Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya College of Education has initiated Active Learning Programmefor the students studying in Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya Swami Shivananda Higher Secondary School (Girls Wing) on 13.07.2022. The students studying in classes 6th to 8thare engaged in Active learning classes by applying active learning strategies in the teaching learning process of Mathematics and Science subjects and extended to 9th students as well.

The students were engaged in Active learning classes once in a week for the time period of 90 minutes in each subject. So far students were engaged in 50 active learning classes in Mathematics and 50 classes in Science from the date of initiation.

Science subject is handled by Sri N. Rajesh Kumar, Assistant Professor in Biological Science and Mathematics is handling by Sri V. Eswaran, Assistant Professor in Mathematics. Faculty members use simulations, augmented reality, mixed reality problem-based activities and experiential learning in teaching subject-specific concepts that stimulate the interests of the students and made them active participation in the classes that enrich the higher-order thinking skills and students in the Active Learning Classes. In Active Learning methodology, students learn the concepts and core of the subjects practically by doing activities with lab articles, models and simulations like PhET, GeoGebra and OLABS etc.,

The Active Learning methodology is a modern classroom concept, which emphasis the 21st century skills among the students by adopting the following strategies, lab articles, models and ICT Tools.

Sample strategies used in Active Learning class,

- ❖ Peer teaching activities
- ❖ Team Teaching
- ❖ Game-based learning
- ❖ Augmented Reality (AR)
- ❖ In-class demonstrations
- ❖ Jigsaw methods

- ❖ Simulation Based Learning
- ❖ Think-Pair-Share
- ❖ One minute paper
- ❖ Mixed Reality (MR)
- ❖ Group discussion
- ❖ Flipped Classroom

Active Learning Techniques

Active learning engages students in learning, using activities such as reading, writing, discussion, or problem solving, which promote analysis, synthesis, and evaluation of class content. Active in-class learning also provides students with informal opportunities for feedback on how well they understood the material.

1. Think-Pair-Share

Students think about a particular question individually, then they form pairs to discuss their answers. The results are shared in a large classroom discussion. This process forces students to think individually, and then allows them to analyse and clarify their response collaboratively. It helps students organize prior knowledge, brainstorm, or summarize, and apply and integrate new information.

Works well with pre-planned questions.
Required Time: Typically, 5 – 10 minutes

2. Brainstorming

Brainstorming is a group problem-solving technique in which members spontaneously share ideas and solutions. Brainstorming is a group creativity technique by which efforts are made to find a conclusion for a specific problem by gathering a list of ideas spontaneously contributed by its members. It was first proposed by Alex Faickney Osborn in 1930.

Encourages creative thought.
Required Time: Typically, 2 - 3 minutes

3. In-class Demonstrations

In-class demonstrations can be used to demonstrate the application of a concept. Students should be involved in the demonstration, and be required to reflect and analyse the process. For example, a teacher can have students predict the outcome of the demonstrations individually, and then have them discuss it in groups, or with the whole class. In-class demonstrations increase student enjoyment of the class.

Increases student understanding of concepts.
Required Time: Typically, 3 - 5 minutes

4. One Minute Paper

Students write a 1-2 minute response to an open question. This activity can be done at any time. If used at the end of class, students can write a response to provide the teacher with feedback on their understanding. A teacher might also include this activity throughout the class as a transition between topics, allowing them to reflect and summarize information, and identify what they do not understand, before moving on.

Typical questions – What is the most important thing you learnt today?
Summarize today's class in one sentence.
Required Time: Typically, 1-2 minutes

Principal i/c
Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya
College of Education (Autonomous)
Coimbatore-641 020.

5. Discussions

Discussions can be useful both in-class and online, and can be adapted to any class size and to any discipline. In a discussion the instructor facilitates students' learning experience. Discussion requires students to think critically, and to evaluate their own and other's responses. Students can explore a diversity of perspectives, and build on each other's knowledge and understanding of the content.

Help students develop the skills of knowledge synthesis and integration.
Required Time: Typically, 3 - 5 minutes

6. Concept Mapping

A concept map is a way of representing or organizing knowledge. Concept maps identify the way we think, the way we see relationships between knowledge. The teacher who constructs concept maps for classes is interested in students understanding relationships between facts, not just "knowing" the facts. Teacher allows students time to think on their own before asking them to discuss with others and modify. Students may need coaching on concept mapping before they begin.

Concept maps show relationships between concepts
Required Time: Typically, 5 - 10 minutes

7. Question and Answer Technique

Questions are a simple yet effective way to promote interaction, and provide with a sense of students' comprehension. Questions can be used in any discipline. A teacher can develop questions before class and decide when to ask them. Questions can be asked at any time, but it is important to vary the timing to prevent repetition/boredom. It is important to stimulate activity from the whole class and to acknowledge all answers, to support continued participation.

Helps to clarify students' thoughts
Required Time: Typically, 2 - 3 minutes

8. Short Cases/Scenarios

The use of case studies / scenarios allow students to apply the concepts learned in class to "real-life situations". This flexible method can be as simple as posing a single question to the class, to generate a discussion about how the students would approach a given scenario/situation. It can also be extensive, and require that students conduct additional research to effectively approach the scenario.

Students can briefly present their findings to the class, either in small groups, or in a paper/assignment.
Required Time: Typically, 5 - 10 minutes
Principal i/c
Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya
College of Education (Autonomous)
Coimbatore-641 020.

9. Flipped Classroom

The flipped classroom inverts the traditional learning experience. Lectures are shared outside of class time for individual review as homework, and classroom time is reserved for class discussion and interactive projects. Students complete the instructional portion at home on their own time and work on problem-solving during class time. Flipped classrooms accommodate different learning styles and speeds among students.

Flipped classrooms help students build higher-level skills at their own pace.
Required Time: Typically, 5 - 10 minutes

10. Exit Tickets

Exit Ticket is a formative assessment tool offering an effective way to end a class. Exit ticket ideas may focus on one specific concept or skill that students are expected to study that day. A good exit ticket may contain 3 to 5 questions on a piece of paper that students should be able to answer in just a few minutes before a unit ends. The responses can be used to inform the next step of the learning process.

Exit tickets provide feedback to the teacher about the class.
Required Time: Typically, 2 - 3 minutes

11. Think Break Method

A teacher asks a rhetorical question, and then allow 20 seconds for students to think about the problem beforeexplaining. This technique encourages students to take part in the problem-solving process even when discussion is not feasible. Having students write something down helps assure that they will in fact work on the problem.

Students are allowed to think about new information.
Required Time: Typically, 2 - 3 minutes

12. Simulation-based learning

Simulation-based learning is training in a virtual environment that mimics real-world activities and scenarios. Students can apply practical information and skills not merely by reading theory books or listening to lectures but also by engaging in physical, hands-on activities. Learning in a controlled and safe setting gives students valuable hands-on experience that combines fundamental theoretical concepts with interactive, computer-simulated scenarios.

Access to high-value learning experiences.
Allows students to apply abstract concepts to active hands-on practice.

Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya
College of Education (Autonomous)

13. Virtual Reality

Virtual Reality refers to interactive content (images or videos) which enables the learner to explore the entire 360 degrees of a scene. Virtual reality can improve education by providing students with memorable and immersive experiences that would otherwise not be possible. Being able to see and experience extraordinary locations within the classroom is completely unique through VR and it is inspirational to students.

Students learn better through experience.
Virtual Reality has the ability to inspire.

14. Augmented Reality

Augmented reality (AR) is the integration of digital information with the user's environment in real time. Students can use real-world imagination to learn and understand difficult concepts. AR allows them to understand them better as they are experiencing concepts in the practical, real-time world. Educators can use AR in their classrooms to engage their students, reinforce information, and get them excited about learning.

AR is superimposing digital information onto real-world objects to create a 3D experience.

18. Punctuated Lectures

A punctuated lecture is a metacognitive strategy that helps students become aware of the behaviours they exhibit during a lecture. These behaviours (fidgeting, daydreaming, distraction) are unconsciously expressed and may impact student learning in the classroom. In becoming self-aware during class, students can begin to take control of their behaviours and be more accountable for their learning.

The Process

Listen – Stop – Reflect – Write - Feedback.

Listen: Students listen to a lecture.

Stop: After a designated time period, the teacher stops the lecture.

Reflect: Students are given time to reflect on their actions and thoughts during the lecture. They are prompted to think about what they were doing and analyse whether those behaviours helped or hindered their understanding of the topic.

Write: Students write down their insights. The information is processed and students determine how they can use the information to modify or change existing behaviours.

Feedback: Students give feedback to the teacher about what they have learned about themselves.

19. English Orthography – The English Writing System

The written form of communication is perhaps the most problematic area of language learning for non-native English speakers.

The letter 'x'

Rarely, a single letter is used to represent multiple sounds. A useful example of this is the letter 'x', which normally represents the two letters 'ks' when sounded together, for example in the word 'expect'.

The letter 'y'

When representing a vowel, the letter 'y' in final positions represents the sound 'ee' in words which have been borrowed from Greek. However, the letter 'i' is usually used to represent this sound when used in non-Greek words.

Homophone differentiation

Spelling may also be used to distinguish between English homophones (words with the same pronunciation but different meanings).

For example, the words 'hour' and 'our' are pronounced identically in some accents. However, they are distinguished from each other in English orthography by the addition of the letter 'h'.

20. Jigsaw Method

The jigsaw technique is a method of organizing classroom activity that makes students dependent on each other to succeed. The jigsaw technique is a cooperative learning method that brings about both individual accountability and achievement of the team goals. The process derives its name from the jigsaw puzzle because it involves putting the parts of the assignment together to form a whole picture.

It helps improve listening, communication, and problem-solving skills.
Required Time: Typically, 3 - 5 minutes

21. Puzzle-based learning (PBL)

Puzzle-based learning refers to the use of puzzles in order to train higher-order thinking skills like problem-solving. It is a new and emerging model of teaching critical thinking. Puzzles can also be a factor that helps retain and motivate students. The ultimate goal of puzzle-based learning is to lay a foundation for students to be effective problem solvers in the real world.

This approach encourages students to think about how they frame and solve problems not encountered at the end of the textbook chapter.
