Explains

The blood vascular system of Frog consists of a three chambered heart covered by double walled membrane called pericardium. It consists of two thin walled chambers auricles & single thick walled chamber ventricle.

The important parts of blood vascular system consists of sinus venosus, truncus arteriosus, three aortic arches (carotid, systemic and pulmo cutaneous).

The Blood consists of plasma [60%] and blood cells [40%] - RBC, WBC, platelets.

describes.

Briefly explains

The Frogs are the ureotelic organisms with mesonephric kidneys. They exhibit the sexual dimorphism, it reproduces by External fertilization method.

The teacher explains the internal anatomy of the blood vascular system of Frog and asked the students to see the pictures pointed in the textbook.

The teacher describes in detail about the division of nervous system and their components. The students observed the Teacher.

The teacher briefly explains the anatomy & functioning of urogenital system of Frog and make the students to understand it.

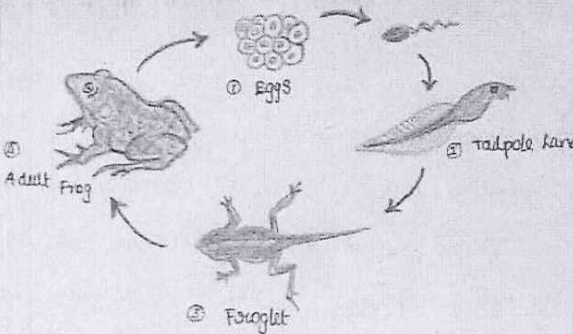

Q. Why the blood is in Red colour?

Draws & Illustrates	Life cycle of Frog - Rana hexadactyla 	The teacher draws the life cycle of the Frog on the blackboard and asks the students to copy down it in their classwork note.	①. List the stages of Life cycle of Frog.
List out	The frog is an important animal in the Ecological balance (by Food web), it has the properties to control blood pressure and ageing. It is an delicious edible food in some countries.	The teacher lists out the Economic importance of the Frog and makes the students recognize it.	①. what is the Food chain?
REVIEW	Grasps the substance of the days unit	Teacher summarizes the content of the day's unit by reading coherently.

*Followup Activity: In order to locate ideas and facts from the topic taught, the teacher provided the following questions and asked the students to study at their home.

- 1). Draw the life cycle diagram of Rana hexadactyla.
- 2). Study the blood vascular system of Frog.
